2026 WEEKLY CALENDAR & PLANNER

EDITOR'S NOTE

In many ways, the photographic outcome at a location is determined by the conditions on the ground. Light, weather, timing, and sometimes luck weigh equally with the gear or skills of the photographer.

This year's calendar makes me think of this reality. I did not strive out to create a predominantly wildlife calendar this year for Alaska Time, but that is how it turned out. Each year, the personality of the calendar is driven by our quality standards, a desire to present a diversity of images and locations, but also what our contributing photographers submit. This year, the quality of the wildlife images in many ways stood out.

But I also think it is an appropriate commentary on Alaska. With about 90% of its 365.48 million acres held as public lands by the state or federal government, Alaska presents a vast collection of undisturbed ecosystems that make it such a rich habitat for an incredible diversity of birds, mammals, and fish. It is that wild land that makes Alaska so special. We are all so lucky to have such a place that provides such vital habitat for our furred and feathered brothers and sisters.

Sincerely,
Carl Johnson
Editor/Owner

SUSTAINABLE

This calendar was printed with plant-based inks on paper milled from trees harvested in accord with guidelines promoting responsible forest management.

ALASKA PROUD

We are a small, Alaska owned and operated business that exclusively publishes Alaskan photographers, authors, and artists' work. When you purchase our products, you support them.

RESPECT ALASKA

We love Alaska's big and wild spaces, the beautiful landscape, and abundant wildlife. We believe these natural treasures must remain for our children's children and generations that will follow.

GIVING BACK

We support the future of Alaska and its people, communities, and the land we all cherish. When you purchase our products, a portion of the proceeds will be donated to select Alaska non-profits.

PHOTO LOCATIONS

A special thank you to the talented team of Alaska photographers who spend hours trekking Alaska's mountains and tundra in cold, rain, sunshine, and under the shimmering aurora-filled night skies to bring you nature's beauty from the "Greatland."

A sibling is a friend for life, but they are a friend for life that you are forced to have. And like anything that you are forced to do, occasionally people will drive you crazy.
